Charter Accreditation Fees and Benefits

Charter Accredited Company

Charter Accreditation identifies and recognises all companies performing at a high level. To become a Charter Accredited company, organisations must hold a current Site Safe Membership. A sample of the sites operated by the Site Safe Member will be audited. If the Performance Threshold results are achieved in the Initial Audits the organisation is recognised through Charter Accreditation at one or more Tiers and invited to be a Charter Accredited company. Ongoing Accreditation Audits throughout the year are used to monitor that the performance threshold is being maintained.

The Programme adopts a three tiered format that recognises high level performance in safety systems, behaviours and leadership. Charter Accreditation Key Performance Indicators have been established by industry stakeholders for each Tier. A performance threshold in each Tier has been established. This threshold is based on actual industry stakeholder performance measured through site audits. All companies achieving the performance threshold in any Tier are awarded Accreditation at that Tier.

Charter Accredited companies will be conveniently positioned to pre-qualify for projects and partnerships with clients who are committed to meeting their responsibilities as principals.
