Our shared purpose

For more than 25 years, Site Safe has changed how New Zealand thinks about safety. We were founded by the industry, for the industry.

As a not-for-profit membership organisation, our focus is on connecting builders, tradespeople, contractors, and clients to lift health and safety performance together, with the shared goal of getting NZ's construction workers home safe, every day.

Just like you, looking out for workers is what drives us. That's why our solutions and services work together to do more than just tick boxes.

Together, we are building everyday safety to keep your people safe and your business strong.

Your safety partner. Every step of the way.

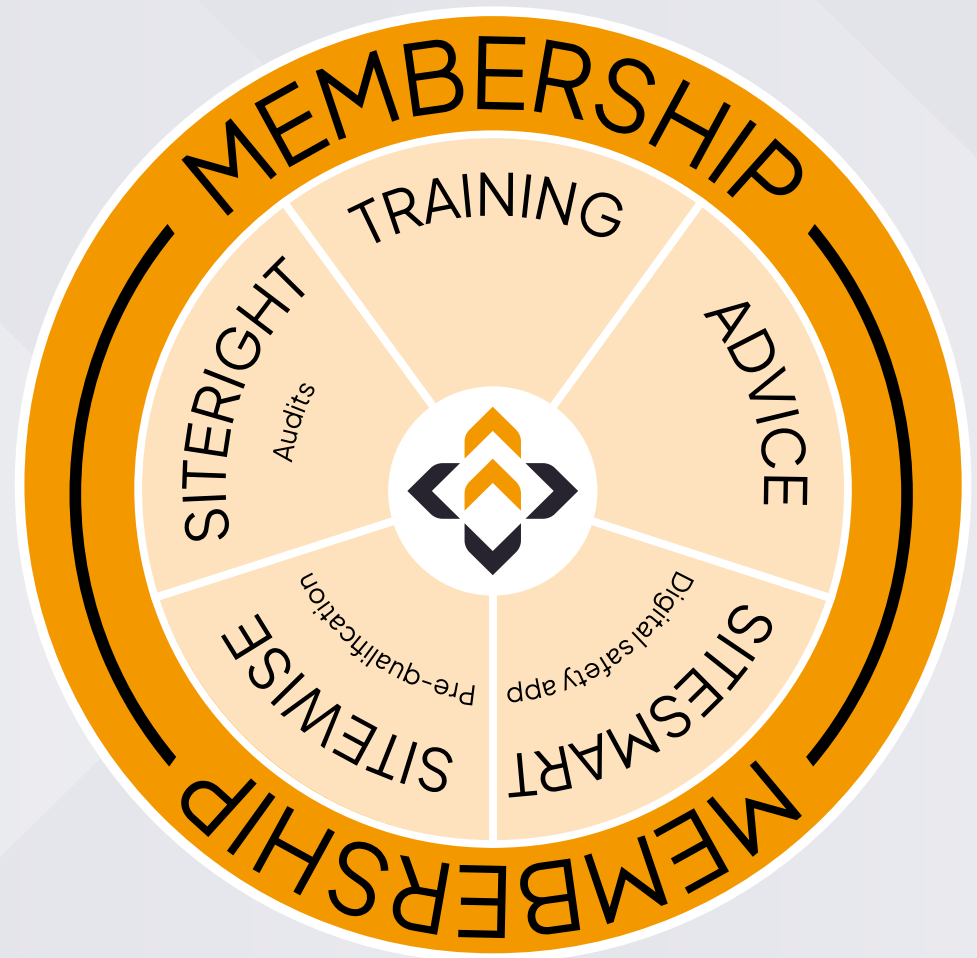

Managing health and safety should never feel like running separate businesses.

At Site Safe, we bring everything together – uniting the vital components of strong health and safety into one connected, supportive system.

Our full range of services, digital tools, and training programmes are designed to support your everyday work, not disrupt it. Because safety should feel like part of the job, not a layer on top of it.

We're here to ensure that every person who steps on site has the confidence that they are getting it right.

> One safety system built for you.

We're for industry. And you.

Whether you are a sole trader working across multiple job sites, a residential builder keeping your crew safe or a national principal contractor coordinating hundreds of subcontractors, Site Safe is here for you.

Our solutions scale to the size of your business and the complexity of your risks. So, no matter the job, we'll work with you to understand, embed, monitor and improve health and safety across your organisation and your projects.

MEMBERSHIP

There is more for members

Join a community of over 5,500 Kiwi businesses, large and small, committed to safety excellence.

Being a Site Safe member shows you're serious about protecting your people.

SITESMART

Where safety gets smart

SITESMART

Your all-in-one digital platform for real-time site safety management - whether you're running a site or stepping onto one.

With SiteSmart you can coordinate, collaborate and communicate with confidence. SiteSmart connects everyone on site in real-time. From contractors arriving and signing in to teams working across multiple sites, everyone stays informed and on top of safety.

Plus, through digitising repeatable safety paperwork like SSSPs and TAs, SiteSmart helps you spend less time on admin and more time on getting the job done safely.

Whether you're a small business, a group builder or a tradie on the tools, SiteSmart puts health and safety in your pocket, helping you outsmart risk, wherever the job takes you.

Your digital safety toolkit

Simple SSSP Management – SiteSmart collates the required documents for an SSSP efficiently and without extra rework.

Generate QR Codes for Easy Sign-in – Know exactly who is on site at any time, ensuring only inducted and approved workers have site access.

Recycle Sites – No need to pay per project, just sign up for your typical number of active sites per month (or single site if you're a sub-contractor) and reuse them once the job is done.

Digital Master Registers – Allows you to centralise and keep across hazard, risk and training registers.

Hazard & Risk Management – Build your master register then simply pull specific hazards and risks down to your site/project for easy assessment as you and your team get the job done.

SiteWise Integration – Capture and store your safety evidence as you go, then efficiently download it for SiteWise so you can accelerate your next pre-qualification assessment.

SITWISE

Proven prequalification

The prequal adopted by over 11,000 businesses. Built by industry, for industry.

From Tier 1 companies to sub-contractors on the ground, SiteWise prequalification creates a shared understanding of what good looks like in H&S capability - making it easier for everyone to work safely together.

SiteWise was designed by people who understand the realities of high-risk construction work. That's why it works. No complex, expensive, multi-layered systems. Instead, SiteWise focuses on what matters with a fit-for-purpose, 14-step questionnaire.

Plus, SiteWise provides extensive support to help you succeed. From free webinars, how-to videos and a friendly support team, you won't be left to figure it out alone.

> How it works

Level 3 (Subcontractors): Stand out, get selected and get on site by completing your SiteWise assessment to demonstrate your health and safety capability to clients and main contractors. Aim for Green or Gold status, or work with our Safety Advisors to improve your score year-on-year.

Level 2 (Main & Subcontractors): For businesses who need SiteWise to both meet client requirements and manage common safety language across their supply chains.

Level 1 (Clients & Main Contractors): Request SiteWise completion to set consistent H&S standards across your supply chain. Or search our current SiteWise holders database where you can compare contractor results in one centralised place and build your safe crew.
